

Saving Flash Card Camera Media to Computer

1. Connect camera to computer using USB drive on camera to flash drive on the computer. With camera on using up and down arrows on camera select Disk. Then press the Menu/OK button on the camera to make your selection. The word Disk will be highlighted in orange with an arrow next to it once you have made the selection.
2. A screen will pop up on your computer from the Media software that came with your camera. This software must be installed on your computer or the computer will not recognize the camera and the media on it. The screen should look like this:

3. Select "Transfer All Files".

4. Browse where you would like to store your files. You can store them on the desktop and create a new folder with the title of your project for easy media management. Once you have selected the location click on the “Transfer” icon. You will see a screen pop up with progress of the transfer. Wait until transfer is finished.

5. Once media is transferred you will see the following screen. You may want to double check the new location of your media by clicking on the “Go to the Folder” icon. After you have located your media on your computer you can quit out of this screen and eject the camera from your computer.
